Teacher of Mrs. Paice's Method of Piano Forte Instruction.

Miss Potter desires to recommend this method to parents; for the theory of Music can be acquired by this system of teaching in a few months. Its advantages over other systems are great. It is very simple, and so trains the hands that the right fingering is gained without difficulty. It gives the pupil a perfect command of the Key Board. The youngest pupils can understand it easily. The first principles can never be forgotten. no11d1w*

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to you selves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping of the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it is the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. STATE OF MAINE.

By the Governor.

A PROCLAMATION,

In conformity to the proclamation of the President of the United States, and by the advice of the Executive Council, I do hereby appoint

Thursday, the Thirtieth day of November, Instant,

As a day of PUBLIC THANKSGIVING AND PRAISE to Almighty God, and I recommend to the people of this State the employment of the day thus set apart in offering the grateful acknowledgments due to Him for the well being of our country, our State and our homes during the year that has passed, and in preferring our petitions for the continuance of His loving kindness towards us.

The custom of our fathers endears to us the holding of family festivals upon that day as a beautiful and appropriate feature of its observance. If amid the gladness of happy reunions of parents and children and children's children round a common hearthstone, our gratitude for the good that we and ours enjoy, shall extend our thoughts to the great family which embraces us all, shall awaken in our hearts fresh sentiments of love and good-will towards our fellow-men, and strengthen our determination to support the institutions and aid the influences which tend to benefit them, and to lessen human wretchedness and suffering, then will the day of our Thanksgiving be most blessed.

Given at the Council Chamber, at Augusta, this third day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundredth first. SELDEN CONNOR.

By the Governor.

S. J. CHADBOURNE, Secretary of State.

The Situation.

A day brings little change in the situation. Republican confidence is increasing, and Democrats are growing more and more despondent. Florida and South Carolina are virtually conceded to Hayes, and there is no doubt in the minds of well informed people that Louisiana will throw her electoral vote for the Republican candidate. The Democratic claim for Louisiana is so absurd that it is looked upon as a jest rather than seriousness. In parishes which cast a Republican majority of thousands two years ago, not a single Republican vote is now allowed by the Democratic claimants. Democratic journals are beginning to concede their defeat, and are raising the old cry of fraud to cover their retreat.

It will be some days yet before the official count is known. Until then the Democrats will in all probability continue to assert their preposterous claim.

DR. CHRISTOPHER DRESSER of London insists that an artist should be not only a gentleman and a scholar but also a poet. In his closing lecture before the Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia, delivered on Tuesday night, he said that the most successful artists had sprung from the humbler class, but it was highly important that artists should be gentlemen, and that gentility of manners should be promoted in art schools. An artist he added, need not be a writer of verses, but he must understand the poetry of art. Above all, he should have the highest appreciation of the intellectual power in art. He must be able to appreciate the masterpieces of the ancient Egyptians, the relation of the lotus and the papyrus to art, the significance of every new ornament, the principles of modern science, &c. Those who are making a modest and quiet beginning in industrial art may well be appalled.

THE San Antonio Herald advertises the hospitality of Texas rather conspicuously. It says that the manners of the guests are carefully studied at the principal hotels. A young man from the frontier remarked to the clerk one evening that he would probably be out quite late. "Just wait a minute," replied the clerk, and he rushed off, but soon reappeared with a large envelope, which he placed in the guest's breast pocket, with the remark: "That is a bond for your appearance before the recorder, properly signed. As soon as you are arrested for being drunk and disorderly, just give the bond to the policeman, mention my name to him, and he will bring you home in a hack. Good night! God bless you!"

THERE are several very close Congressional districts yet to hear from, the official count being needed to decide the result. So far the Republicans have apparently wiped out sixty-six of the seventy-three Democratic majority in the present House. New Hampshire will choose its members at the spring election. It is now represented by one Republican and two Democrats. With a gain of two more Republicans from the doubtful districts, the 290 members chosen would stand a tie—145 each, leaving the majority to be determined by the three to be elected in New Hampshire.

THE Democratic election returns are as fertile as they are false. They claimed Colorado for days after it was certainly known to be Republican. They have even had the check to claim Ohio and Illinois. The manifest absurdity of such wild pretensions would, even if there were no other reason, throw discredit upon their reports from the South. Their trouble is that they make their reports to suit their own purposes and not to suit the facts.

THE only acts of violence in Louisiana have thus far proceeded from the Democracy. They broke into the Madison Parish Court House and destroyed the ballot-boxes and returns deposited with the county clerk. Fortunately, however, as the law requires, duplicates had been kept and the burglary will bring no grist to the Democratic mill. This parish gives a Republican majority of 2,170.

GOV. RICE has received in honor of his re-election what the average local reporter timidly calls "a magnificent floral tribute." It is shaped like an exultant rooster, composed of delicate pink and white rosebuds, and it rests upon a mournful bed of violets and heliotropes.

THE Southern agents of the Associated Press, from whom the election news is received, are Democrats, one and all. For example, the agent at Charleston, S. C., is F. A. Dawson, the editor of the News and Courier of that city, one of the most violent rebel sheets in the country.

IF Tilden has three majority in the electoral college nobody threatens any trouble. If Hayes has one majority, Democratic newspapers threaten disturbance. The fact shows that the Republican party is the party of law, order and reason.

IT took the Democrats three weeks to learn that Colorado, with three electoral votes, had gone Republican. As Florida has four electoral votes, it should, of course, take them a week longer to get at the truth from that state.

Now that the London Corporation proposes to remove Temple Bar, Sir Thomas Sutton Western has offered to purchase it. Sir Thomas wishes to have it as an entrance lodge to his estate at Kelvedon, Essex.

THE Democrats are disappointed that their game of intimidation failed in South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida. As often before, the bullet was less effective than the ballot.

ONE of the Democratic despatches claiming Louisiana by 10,000 is appropriately signed "Kennard."

Election Notes.

It should be remembered that the Tilden Bureau which is now claiming Florida, Louisiana, and South Carolina for Tilden, is the same news manufactory which carried Colorado for the Democrats in October.

The worse than idiotic editor who, in the face of the precautions taken to secure a fair count in the doubtful States, persists in yelling fraud and demanding an uprising of the people, should be taken up carefully in a balloon and dropped in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

The idea that a single elector may fail of election in any state, either by a misprint of his name, or by the ineligibility of the candidate, and that an electoral vote may be gained for the other side thereby, has no foundation. Each state makes up its electoral vote and votes as a unit, throwing the whole electoral vote of that state.

The Democratic editors who persist in saying that if the vote of Louisiana is given to Hayes it will only be through a false count, don't display much confidence in the leading men of their party. Nearly every Democrat of any prominence in the North will be on the ground when the count is made, and to say that the whole of them together will not be able to secure a fair count is to declare them a parcel of imbeciles.

The impecunious person who thought he would like to replenish his pocket book by betting judiciously on the election must be having a abroad. While an artist ought to be satisfied with nothing less than ability to produce every portion of his work—to know all that the best workmen know and do everything better even than they—Americans habitually expect to do their work through workmen, being the artists of their own works merely in the designs. This is the proper shape in which to put the crude charges of fraud brought against American artists by Healey. Mr. Bartlett does not mean that it is improper to employ skilled workmen, but only that the sculptors should themselves be skilled workmen—and the Americans, with few exceptions, are not. Those of them who are noted for bronze work have the same incompetency, the same deceitful ignorance." "They make their models in plaster and send them to Munich [Mr. Bartlett does not say "Chicopee"] to be cast in bronze, and that is the last the sculptors know of them." The article at middle age sculptors were proficient founders, and cast their own statues; so our eminent sculptors of the present, as Barge and Fremiet. The Munich casting, Mr. Bartlett says, is not good; "it is the sum of all tricks of casting." Papi of Florence is the only perfect bronze founder in the world, and it is said he practices the method of the ancients. He reproduces the sculptor's plaster in wax, and permits him to retouch this model; but after that all is unknown to the artist and the world. Miller, the Munich founder, cuts the plaster in pieces, casts each separately, and the workmen cut, file, chisel and fit the pieces together. This process Mr. Bartlett denounces. "There should be," he says, "no chiselling of the cast after it leaves the mold, except for small work, and that by the sculptor himself." Mr. Bartlett says that the European founders turn out their work with an excellence proportioned to the standing of the artist, and when any American sculptor comes, the founder says: "Here is an American, a kind of savage. They have no art in America. The sculptors are no artists. The work they do is not sculpture. They are a set of rich, savage princes, as we all know by the purchaser they make and the kind of stuff that is made expressly for them. Of course I will do his work but I shall not give him my best. A good price and the commonest work of my apprentices is quite good enough for him." And this sort of treatment Mr. Bartlett declares to be "perfectly just."

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT OUTRAGE.—The attempt to steal the remains of President Lincoln from their resting place at Springfield, Ill., on the night of election day, is an occurrence as mysterious in some of its details as it is repulsive to every instinct of patriotism and humanity. The motive of the perpetrators is unknown, although the most ready supposition is that they proposed to demand a heavy ransom for the precious dust of the great president, relying upon the deep feeling of the American people, the pride of the people of Illinois, and the interest of the monument association to raise any sum that might be named. The success of the Charley Ross abductors may have emboldened them to believe that they could escape detection, having to conceal but the remnants of a corpse, a dozen years decayed, instead of a live child. Yet the risk in case of detection was even greater than of Mosher and his gang, as the whole nation would demand their extremest punishment. There is a possibility that the act grew out of extreme hatred for the martyr president, developed during his lifetime and continued all these years, to wreak its vengeance on his ashes, as the French revolutionists of 1793 ransacked the tombs and scattered the bones of the kings in the gutters, as retribution for the years of oppression, or as warriors of the middle ages pillaged the sepulchres of their enemies and threw their dust to the winds, in the belief that the happiness of the soul hereafter was dependent on the repose of the body in the tomb. Such fanatic motives for this dastardly act would be strange, but no more strange than the wild, unreasoning hatred that caused the death of Lincoln. It is said that those most nearly interested have had an inkling of the plot since last June, and that detectives discovered who the conspirators were, learned their plans and allowed them to go on, almost to accomplish the deed, in the hope of capturing them with conclusive evidence of their purpose and attempt, the plan being spoiled at the last moment by the premature discharge of a pistol. The detectives were concealed in the memorial hall in the monument all the evening, election night, with a guard in the passage-way until about half-past nine, when a noise was heard in the vault and the watch rushed toward the door with their revolvers cocked for use in case of resistance. One of these went off by accident when they were about 100 feet from the door of the vault, and in that short space the vandals managed to escape into the woods close by, into which the detectives dispersed to find them, but without success. The villains had removed the double lid and the head-piece of the sarcophagus, and had begun to pull out the cedar case containing the leaden casket when they were interrupted. They would probably have opened the inner casket and put the remains into a bag or box for easier carriage. A well known thief, rejoicing in the sobriquet of "Orange Blossoms," has since been arrested at Pittsburg, and is thought to be connected with the affair. A similar attempt was made, a few years ago, to steal the body of Washington, but the object of those concerned is not known.

A Materialized Hole.

Take a sheet of stiff writing paper and fold it into a tube an inch in diameter. Apply it to the right eye and look steadfastly through it, focusing the eye on any convenient object; keep the left eye open. Now place the left hand, held palm upward, edgeways against the side of the paper tube, and about an inch or two above its lower end. The astonishing effect will be produced of a hole apparently of the size of the cross section of the tube, made through the left hand. This is the hole in which we propose to materialize another and smaller hole. As we need a genuine aperture, and it would be inconvenient to make one in the left hand, let a sheet of white paper be substituted therefor, and similarly held. Just at the part of the paper where the hole equalling in diameter the orifice of the tube appears, make an opening a quarter-inch in diameter. Now stare intently into the tube, and the second hole, defined by its difference of illumination, will be seen floating in the first hole, and yet both will be transparent. The illusion, for of course it is one of those odd pranks our binocular vision plays upon us, is certainly one of the most curious ever devised. Besides, here is the actual hole clearly visible, and yet there is no solid body to be seen to define its edges. It is not a mere spot of light, because, if a page of print be regarded, the lines within the boundaries of the little hole will not coincide at all with those surrounding it, and extending to the edges of the large apparent aperture. Each eye obviously transmits an entirely different impression to the brain, and that organ, unable to disentangle them, lands us in the palpable absurdity of a materialized hole.—Scientific American.

Of 526,632 persons who died in England in 1874, there were 69 who were 100 years old and upwards. Of this number 16 were men and 53 women. The oldest were six widows, each 104 years old. All the women but eight were widows, and one of them, 100 years old, was described as a ward in Chancery. Of the men only one is described as a gentleman.

It will be remembered that some months since Lord Lytton outraged all the traditions of Anglo-Indian society insisting that an Englishman who maltreated a native ought to be punished for it. The Secretary of State has backed him, and now the Times of India announces that he has more "exalted approbation." It seems that the Prince of Wales' letter to Her Majesty while on his Indian tour urged frequent complaints of the discourtesy of the political department in their demeanor towards the native princes, and of harsh treatment of the natives on the part of Anglo-Indians generally. These letters were laid before Lord Lytton with an emphatic request from the Queen herself that his especial efforts should be directed towards a reformation of the habits of Anglo-Indian society in the matter.

MATTERS IN MAINE

Fire near Bangor.

BANGOR, Nov. 15.—A fire this morning at Ottageville, a suburb of the city, burned H. E. Hayes' carriage shop and Moses Bates' blacksmith shop. Loss about $1000. Incendiary.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Small Pox at Upper Bartlett.

NORTH CONWAY, Nov. 14.—A laborer from the mills of Saunders & Co., lumbermen of Upper Bartlett, N. H., reports several cases of small pox in camp. One child has already died with the disease. Serious results are feared.

NEW YORK.

Railroad Warfare.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Rufus Hatch, Russell Sage and others, stockholders of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad have obtained from Judge Lawrence in the Supreme Court, an order returnable November 20th, requiring W. H. Vanderbilt, Vice President of the road, to show cause why he should not be compelled to authorize the Farmers Loan and Trust Company, state agents for transfer, to exhibit to them the transfer books and list of stockholders. They make affidavit that their object is to communicate with other stockholders, and have steps taken to prevent the unjust discrimination made in through rates in favor of the New York Central, of which Vanderbilt is also Vice President, arising out of the latter's suicidal war with the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio, which the plaintiffs wish to arrest.

WASHINGTON.

Postmasters Resigned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Postmaster General today received the resignation of Jno. W. Watts, postmaster at Lafayette, Oregon, and H. N. Sollace, postmaster at Bridport, Vt., both of whom were chosen Presidential electors at the late election. The resignations were accepted and in the Vermont case the appointment of D. H. Bennett as postmaster was ordered.

FOREIGN.

THE EASTERN QUESTON.

Mobilization of the Russian Army.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—The Czar has ordered the mobilization of a part of the Russian army.

A circular of Gortschakoff to the Russian representatives abroad, explaining this measure, says the Czar does not wish war, and will avoid it if possible. He is, however, determined that the principles of justice which have been recognized as necessary by the whole of Europe shall be carried out in Turkey under efficacious guarantees.

English Engineers in Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 14.—Several English officers of the Royal Engineers have arrived here.

The third million in Turkish pounds of the new paper currency is about to be issued.

The Feeling toward Russia.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Russia has given large orders to Berlin houses for military exports. Should Russia persist in her warlike policy, there is reason to believe that she will be perfectly isolated. Germany is understood to be pledged to an observant neutrality as against Austria, with an engagement to watch the Polish provinces, presumably to assist in repressing any Polish rising.

Gen. Tchernayeff an Exile.

BELGRADE, Nov. 24.—The Russian consul general here has informed Gen. Tchernayeff that the Czar forbids his return to Russia. Gen. Tchernayeff will go on leave of absence to Vienna to morrow.

The Proposed Conference.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Times correspondent at Vienna thinks the meeting of the conference is tolerably well assured. The Porte, although putting forward objections, has intimated that it would leave the decision to the British government.

From the indications of the Russian demands which Gen. Ignatieff has given, it appears that Russia will require the appointment of Governors for fixed periods, the employment of Christian officials whenever practicable, reform of taxation of local police, &c; also that the reforms should not be limited to the provinces called Bulgarian, but extended to all districts inhabited by Bulgarians. If these, as it appears possible, are all Russia's demands, and if Russia shows moderation in regard to the guarantees there will not be much need for the Czar to take an independent course.

In General.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A despatch from Nisch reports that Admiral Herim Pasha has been ordered to return to Constantinople and started thither on Monday.

A Vienna despatch says quarters for 20,000 men are being prepared at Rustchuk. The fortresses of Selistria, Schumla, Rustchuk and Varria are to be held by 75,000 reserve men from the Asiatic army corps.

Dervish Pasha has been ordered to send a large force to Constantinople, and steamers have been sent to the Albanian coast to transport them.

A Berlin correspondent telegraphs that the Russian ambassadors at the several courts have been ordered to officially communicate to the foreign governments the Moscow speech of the Czar and give a special explanation of the meaning.

A special from Constantinople declares that the Turks are firmly persuaded that Russia will make inadmissable demands in order to provoke a rupture. The Turks are vigorously preparing for war. Torpedoes are being placed at the eastern entrance of the Bosphorus and the forts have been strengthened. The people in Constantinople and elsewhere are forming a national guard.

The Golos announces that the Grand Duke Nicholas will establish his headquarters at Kisseuw in Bessarabia.

RUSSIA.

Sentence of Dr. Strousberg and Confederates.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A despatch from Moscow says Dr. Strousberg and the officials of the Moscow Commercial Loan Bank, recently convicted of irregularities, have been sentenced as follows:—Dr. Strousberg, to banishment from Russia; Messrs. Lonsdon, Poljanski and Borrisowsky, to banishment to Tamsk and Olaetz; M. Schumacher, to one month imprisonment.

The Russian Army.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—Prince Gortschakoff's circular dated Nov. 13th, published in the Official Gazette, corresponds with the version already telegraphed. It says the mobilization has been ordered in view of acts of violence in Turkey which still continues to be perpetrated, notwithstanding all efforts of the Russian government.

An imperial ordinance also has been issued, sanctioning the formation of six army corps, composed of divisions stationed in the districts of Kieve, Kharkan and Odessa. The active army will comprise four divisions, and be under command of the Czar's brother, Grand Duke Nicolaievitch, with Adjutant General Nepokoisehitzky as Chief of Staff; Prince Masalsky, Commander of Artillery, and Major General Depp, Chief of Engineers. The commanders of the various corps are Prince Borkiai, Von Tolli, Weimarn, Lieut. General Rodetsky, Baron Kruedener, Prince Woronsoff, Prince Schaskoff-ski and General Wannowsky.

HAYTI.

A Baseless Falsehood.

ROME, Nov. 14.—The report in the Cologne Gazette about the proposed procedure of the Italian government in the event of the death of the Pope is pronounced a baseless fabrication.

THE DOMINION.

Lumber Exports.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—The lumber exported to the United States from this port during the season just closed amounted in value to $812,000. The quantity was 80,590,000 feet, of which 61,000,000 were exported in American vessels. Last year the exports were 83,500,000 feet.

CUBA

Deserters Offered Pardon.

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—The following proclamation was issued to-day by Captain General Jovellar and Martinez Campos, General-in-chief:

Article I.—Deserters from our army who are actually in the ranks of the enemy will be pardoned if they surrender themselves to the proper authorities. They will resume their places in the army where they will serve until their legitimate terms of service has expired.

Article II.—All deserters captured after Dec. 31st will be shot.

Foreign Notes.

The Austrian prime minister, Count Andrassy, is ill at Pesth.

The Daily news publishes a letter from Eugene Schuyler, dated Constantinople, vouching for and enclosing documentary proof of the accuracy of the passages in his book on "Turkestan," concerning the Russian operations in Central Asia, which lately have caused much controversy.

METEOROLOGICAL.

PROBABILITIES FOR THE NEXT TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D.C., Nov. 15, (1 A. M.)

For New England,

and Middle states increasing northeast winds, rising followed by falling barometer, stationary or lower temperature with rainy or snowy weather.

Cautionary signals countinue on the lower lakes and are ordered for the Middle and East Atlantic coasts.

The Savannah Fire.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 19.—From the best information obtainable 1800 bales of cotton were destroyed and some 250 bales damaged. Thirty-eight cars were totally destroyed.

IN STATU QUO.

No Decisive Returns Yet.

Few Additional Returns from Doubtful States.

The Democrats give up Florida.

SOUTH CAROLINA CERTAIN FOR HAYES.

Official Count Necessary to Settle Louisiana.

Providing for a Possible Contingency.

Mr. Blaine to be Elected President of the Senate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Tribune's Washington special says influential Republicans talk of the election of Mr. Blaine to the Presidency of the Senate as an event likely to ensue immediately after the reassembling of Congress. If such action should be taken, it would of course be to provide for a possible contingency which might leave a vacancy in the offices of both President and Vice President after the 4th of March and devolve the powers of the executive upon the presiding officer of the Senate.

No Change in the Situation.

The morning journals see no change in the Presidential situation and make no alteration in the electoral tables. The Tribune's Jacksonville special says Hayes runs from 600 to 800 ahead of Stearns for Governor. The state canvassers wont meet for some days. The board possesses judicial power and can determine all questions, but it may be a long time before the result is decided.

The Times to-day claims that Hayes has carried Florida by 1000 and Louisiana by 3000.

Henry Watterson telegraphed from New Orleans Monday night as follows: New Orleans is as quiet as a nursery. The people cannot be goaded into an outbreak. The question presented to you is this: Shall the American people be cheated out of their free choice and their free government by a handful of desperate adventurers, Kellogg, Warmoth and Packard, backed by the President and the military arm of the nation. These reckless persons, followed by an army of plantation hands, are arrayed against the responsible elements of society in Louisiana. Nobody's life is in danger, nor anybody's liberty. Is it possible that you can place the word of worthless vagabonds against that of every banker, business man and bona fide citizen in Louisiana.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 14.—The facts concerning the report that one Democratic Presidential elector has been chosen in Wisconsin are as follows:

It was discovered several weeks before the election that Minor, Republican candidate for elector, was a postmaster. He was thereupon taken from the ticket and Downs substituted. The blanks for returns, sent by the Secretary of State to town officers, of the election contained Minor's name instead of Downs'. Upon learning this, the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee caused circulars to be sent to these officers, instructing them to erase Minor's name and insert Downs. So far as learned this was not done, and the votes are returned as if they had been cast for Minor, when in fact they were cast for Downs, but the number is not sufficient to raise any doubt about Downs' election.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Nov. 14.—Official returns from 94 cities and counties in Virginia show a majority for Tilden of over 40,000. The remaining counties will increase the figures about 2000. In the 6th district Tucker's majority for Congress is 5298; in the 4th district Harris' majority is 10,895; in the 8th district Hunton's majority is 6485. Full returns have not yet been received from the remaining districts, but in the 1st, 2d, 3d, 5th and 9th districts the Democratic candidates have equally large majorities. Jorgenson, in the 4th district, is the only Republican elected. His majority will be between 700 and 800. There is talk of a contest in this case.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Marshal Wallace's Opinion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A despatch was printed here yesterday, said to be from Mr. Laidlaw, former publisher of the Charleston News, stating that Marshal Wallace had admitted that South Carolina had gone Democratic. To this the following reply has been received:

Charleston, Nov. 13.—Returns from all the counties give the state to Hayes and Hampton. The official count will elect Chamberlain.

R. M. WALLACE,
U. S. Marshal.

Precautions Against Rioting.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 14.—Major Best, commanding United States troops here, has informed the mayor officially that the suppression of mob violence and riot in this city has been assumed by him in obedience to orders of the department commander, and all necessary precautionary measures to keep himself informed of the temper of the inhabitants will be taken with a view to preventive measures. Major Best assumes that, as the mayor desires the peace of the city, there will be no conflict of authority.

The police of Charleston is being reorganized by the mayor, who is discharging negroes and putting on whites.

The Returning Board.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 14.—A motion has been made by Democratic counsel before the full bench of the Supreme Court, praying that writs of prohibition and mandamus be granted, restraining the board of state canvassers from exercising judicial functions regarding the election of electors, members of Congress, &c., and confining them to ministerial functions only; and restraining Dunn, Cordoza and Hayne, Comptroller, Treasurer and Secretary of State, and nominees for re-election to these offices, from sitting as judges of their own election. The Court issued a rule requiring the board of canvassers to answer Thursday why writs shall not be issued.

The board of canvassers had decided themselves that they had no jurisdiction over the election of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and hence no question was raised respecting those offices.

Democrats on Hand.

The following Democrats are here: Ex-Gov. Parker and Senator Randolph of New Jersey, Montgomery Blair, A. H. Stuart of Virginia, and G. V. Cox.

Intimidation and Fraud.

[Special to the Boston Journal.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A letter received here this morning from Columbia, S. C., represents the condition of affairs there as very serious. Many prominent Republicans have been threatened with death, and they have arrived in Columbia from the back country only by stealing away. The election in many counties was little less than a mockery. Outrageous frauds were perpetrated and intimidation practiced upon Republican voters.

In Abbeville, a strong Republican county, Georgia roughs surrounded the polls after voting themselves, took the tickets from colored Republicans, put Democratic tickets in their hands, and then marched them to the polls, where they compelled the unwilling voter to deposit his vote for Hampton and Tilden. In Oconee county the Democrats took down the names of all colored men who intimated a wish to vote the Republican ticket. In this way they intimidated hundreds. In Anderson county, where there is a large Republican vote, it is represented that not one Republican vote was polled.

In Edgefield county, where Republicans should have fifteen hundred majority, the Democrats claim thirty-five hundred. In the third district the returns insisted on by the Democrats show a change of ten thousand six hundred votes, which is preposterous, and could only have been effected by the grossest fraud and intimidation.

ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 14.—The election of Cravens (Dem.) for Congress over McClure (Rep.) is pretty generally conceded.

LOUISIANA.

The Functions of the Returning Board.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—It is understood that Gov. Noyes, Judge Stanley Matthews, and other distinguished jurists after a thorough examination of state election laws, have come to the conclusion that the board of returning officers are bound to take cognizance of charges of intimidation and violence when alleged at any poll in the state, and bound to reject the vote of any precinct against which intimidation may be established; also that the finding of the returning board is judicial and final, not being subject to review either by Congress or by the courts.

Mr. Lamar has examined the returning board law and finds it constitutional and beyond appeal.

The Legislature Republican.

Avoyeller parish, just heard from, heretofore claimed by the Democrats goes for Hayes, and elects a Republican Representative, giving the Republicans five majority on joint ballot.

Democratic Figures and how They are Made.

The Democratic committee have complete returns said to be made up from the duplicate lists of the supervisor, showing Tilden's majority in the state to be 8107. The same returns show Nichols's majority to be nearly 9,000.

The city is very quiet. Politicians are now anxiously awaiting the action of the returning board, which by law is required to meet ten days after the election.

The Republicans say the official returns now coming in show that the Democrats have claimed the whole vote cast in distant parishes as majorities.

A Comprehensive Denial of a Democratic Lie.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Herald publishes the following letter from U. S. Marshal Pitkin, dated New Orleans, Nov. 8th:

A communication hence in your issue of the 5th, signed T. C. Zacherie, states that I am 'the chief an armed colored organization called the Council of Freedmen" here. There is no armed colored organization, nor am I chief of any such, nor of any other council; nor am I Secretary of the Republican campaign committee, nor have I been for six weeks past; nor have United States army officers attempted to demoralize the colored Democrats—there are not 200 of the latter in the state; the troops have not been stationed near all or any of the polls to influence colored voters; nor have the Democrats had any thirty colored speakers in their canvass—though they did have a few mangy black mendicants, cast off by the Republicans for their infamy and fit only for their new party affiliation; nor has U. S. District Attorney Beckwith, nor have I, sought to debase our official character for party ends.

The communication in question is written by a Democratic partisan, who ascribes to his element a disposition towards peace to which a vigorous assertion of law, emphasized by the presence of the United States ships Ossipee and Canonicus, alone gave seeming yesterday. The aggressive Democrats in the country here too often attempt lie; their confederates in the city are as diligent to assassinate reputation.

The Official Count Required to Determine the Result.

The following despatch was received yesterday by Gen. Thos. W. Conway, late State Superintendent of Education in Louisiana:

New Orleans, Nov 13.—Official returns from Point Coupee and East Baton Rouge change the summaries given before. The Republicans have 1475 majority. Returns are coming in slowly. Only the most careful supervision of the entire return can determine the result.

M. C. COLE,
Secretary of State Board of Education.

To Gen. Thomas W. Conway, Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York.

An Appeal for a Fair Count.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—John M. Palmer, Lyman Trumbull, William R. Morrison, Sam'l J. Randall and many other Northern Democrats now here, in a note addressed to Stanley Matthews, James A. Garfield, John A. Logan, William D Kelley and other Northern Republicans here or expected here, say that they feel assured that all good citizens of all parties regard an honest count and a true return of the vote actually cast of greater moment than the success of any candidate for any office, and are ready to do all that honorable men should do to secure such a return of the vote cast at the last election in Louisiana, which assumes more than ever before a national importance, upon which, in this crisis, may depend the very existence of the constitutional government. The undersigned, therefore, in view of the unhappy controversies which have heretofore arisen from the action of the returning board of the state, where its action could not in any event change the result of the Presidential election, and in view of the desire of all good men that effect should be given to the will of the majority, as lawfully expressed, respectfully ask you or such of you as are present, to meet and confer with them personally or through committees, as may be deemed most wise in order that such influence as we possess may be exerted in behalf of such canvass of votes actually cast, as by its fairness and impartiality shall command the respect and acquiescence of the American people of all parties.

Prominent Arrivals

The following gentlemen have reached the city:

Ex-Govs. Curtin and Bigler, Samuel Randall and M. P. Hardy of Pennsylvania; Col. John C. Burch, Maj. T. O'Connor, J. M. Keating and W. H. Carroll of Tennessee; O. Ottendorfer of New York.

Gen. Butler Declines to go to Louisiana.

In reply to Marshal Pitkin's invitation to him to visit New Orleans, Gen. Butler replies as follows:

I don't believe Northern men ought to go down and interfere in the affairs of Louisiana except, if necessary, with arms in their hands. Have a fair count of the honest vote at all hazards. Nobody will submit to anything else. Every true man will sustain you in that.

(Signed) B. F. BUTLER.

Messrs. Garfield of Ohio, and Kelley of Pennsylvania, will arrive tomorrow, when the Republicans will reply to the communication of the Democrats. The city is very quiet. There is no news.

FLORIDA.

Excitement at Tallahassee.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 14.—The excitement has greatly increased here during the past twenty-four hours. General Ruger arrived yesterday afternoon and took command of the troops. Prominent Democrats are pouring into the state from all parts of the South, and a number from the North are hourly expected. Yesterday three New York detectives arrived, one of them well known about the Albany lobby. They were much mortified when they were recognized, and their power for good or bad ended.

Democrats Losing Hope.

Both parties continue to claim the state, but as the returns come in the Republicans become more confident and the Democrats lose hope. They would give up the fight if they were not urged continually by the Democratic National Committee and by Mr. Tilden in person, to keep up a bold front at all hazards.

NOTES.

A rumor prevailed in Boston Monday night that ex-Gov. Gaston had been shot at New Orleans, but it turned out that the ex-governor was alive and well in Boston.

Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal telegraphs from New Orleans to Gov. Tilden that he and Mr. Hayes should each select five men of the calibre of Adams and Evarts to supervise the count of the returning boards, agreeing to be governed by the decision of this committee. Mr. Tilden is said to have responded favorably to the proposition, and it has since gone to Mr. Hayes. There is, however, little likelihood of such an arrangement being perfected.

Distinguished lawyers of Louisiana, who have been critically examining the law under which the Returning Board exercises its functions, allege that it makes no provision vesting them with any jurisdiction over the counting of the electoral vote, but is confined to prescribing the method by which the vote for state officers and members of Congress shall be canvassed.

Much research is being made in Washington as to the power of the President of the Senate or of the Senate to in any way control the counting of the electoral vote. A very prominent authority has been found in the thirteenth lecture of Kent's commentaries. He says:

"If ever the tranquillity of this nation is to be disturbed, and its liberties endangered by a struggle for power, it will be upon this very subject of the choice of a President. This is the question that is eventually to test the goodness and try the strength of the Constitution. The Constitution does not expressly declare by whom the votes are to be counted and the result declared. In the case of questionable votes and a closely contested election, this power may be all important, and I resume in the absence of all legislative provision on the subject, that the President of the Senate counts the votes and determines the result, and that the two Houses are present only as spectators to witness the fairness and accuracy of the transaction, and to act only if no choice be made by the electors."

Riotous Strikers.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 14.—A serious riot occurred here today between the Delaware, Lackawana & Western Railroad Companies mechanics, who have been on a strike for six weeks past, and some of their number who recently returned to work. The fight occurred in the vicinity of the shops, just as the men were quitting work. Bars of iron, stones and other missiles were used and several were seriously injured. The men on a strike are growing desperate, and unless the dispute is settled soon trouble may be looked for.

Sheriff Dunn, of Luzerne county only by stealing away. The election in many counties was little less than a mockery. Outrageous frauds were perpetrated and intimidation practiced upon Republican voters.

In Abbeville, a strong Republican county, Georgia roughs surrounded the polls after voting themselves, took the tickets from colored Republicans, put Democratic tickets in their hands, and then marched them to the polls, where they compelled the unwilling voter to deposit his vote for Hampton and Tilden. In Oconee county the Democrats took down the names of all colored men who intimated a wish to vote the Republican ticket. In this way they intimidated hundreds. In Anderson county, where there is a large Republican vote, it is represented that not one Republican vote was polled.

In Edgefield county, where Republicans should have fifteen hundred majority, the Democrats claim thirty-five hundred. In the third district the returns insisted on by the NOVEMBER CIVIL TERM, 1876, SYMONDS, J., PRESIDING.

Lyman J. Pratt vs. George Sweetsir. Action of trespass quare clausum fregit to recover damages sustained by plaintiff to mowing field by reason of the defendant having hauled three loads of marsh hay across it in August last.

Defendant claims that he has a right of way by prescription from his salt marsh over the plaintiff's upland and out to the country-road for the purpose of taking off the hay from that marsh.

Plaintiff denies that there is any such prescriptive right of way over his field; that the right of way to and from that and adjacent marshes is through a wood-road upon another part of his farm. To this the defendant replies that to use this wood-road he is obliged to cross other marshes which he has been forbidden by the owners to do, and that he has no right of way over them.

A large and conflicting mass of testimony has been introduced upon both sides as to the manner and way in which the hay from this marsh has been taken off for a period beginning as far back as 1816 up to the time of the alleged trespass. In all there were fifty-three witnesses examined.

The case was begun Wednesday morning and the testimony begun Monday night. The case was tried at the last February term and the jury failed to agree.

The jury retired at four o'clock with instructions that if they did not agree before six o'clock to seal up their verdict and bring it in this morning. At eight o'clock they notified the officer that they had agreed.

A SUMMER'S WORK.

An Afternoon in Brown's Studio.

He who enjoys pictures and good company can spend a half-day no more pleasantly than in Harry Brown's studio, studying the pictured walls, listening to the artist's kindly and instructive talk, and venturing profound remarks from the depths of his own ignorance at which his courteous host never smiles. If the visitor be given to the worship of the Indian weed a pipe with a bowl as big as that in which the wise men went to sea so long ago and a stem as generous in its length as a Kentuckian is offered him, and he sits and tranquilly enjoys the great vegetable and fancies himself cloud-compelling Jove; for tobacco is the choicest food of conceit. The studio itself is a picture worth contemplation, and its furnishings are full of beauty. If the caller be wise he will direct the attention of the artist to the "Moses" of Michael Angelo, of which a superb copy is upon the wall. Mr. Brown believes Michael Angelo to be the greatest man that ever lived, an opinion which history is not slow to warrant, and he will pour out a fund of anecdote and comment upon the universal genius, sculptor, painter, architect, poet. A reference to the "Mona Lisa" which hangs above the hearthstone will call forth scarcely less information concerning Leonardo.

The artist has made good use of his time this summer and his studio is hung with the completed sketches made during his mountain tour. His vacation was passed in Jackson, and his portfolio is rich in views of the Wildcat and the Ellis, and in glimpses of the great hills which loom up through the clearings. Specially noticeable among the completed paintings is a scene on the Ellis where the river widens for a space and pours a shallow stream over its rocky bed. The treatment is firm and broad, the overhanging foliage delicate and truthful in color, and the water painted with a genuine transparency; it seems fairly to tumble over the rocks. Another and the favorite picture with most visitors is a view on the Wildcat, rather quieter in the effect than that brawling stream usually conveys, but strong in sentiment. Two pictures which repeatedly call the attention amid the embarrassment of riches are scenes on the road to the Glen, the one at the bridge near Thorn Mountain, with that shapely hill dominating the view; the other farther up the road, that wonderful glimpse of the great range where the rounded top of Washington lifts itself to the clouds far above the pushing shoulder of Monroe in the foreground—a view familiar to all who have trodden the way from Jackson to the Glen. Many other of these sketches command the lingering notice of the visitor, pleasant bits of forest and stream, framings of the Conway elms, and one or two in which pallid Chocorua shadows the landscape.

The summer's work was not altogether confined to the mountain region. There are some marines, strongly characteristic in color, loving studies of rock and wave. One of these in particular, a long line of cliff struck by the ruddy gold of the setting sun, in an impressive piece of work. Upon the easel is one of the studies of sunrise and fog, soft and delicate in color, upon which the eye always rests with delight.

This fall Mr. Brown has devoted some time to charcoal drawings, and the results of his work are seen both in his studio and at Hale's. They are certainly very attractive, strong and free in drawing and powerful in motive. Those in Hale's window, the wreck for example, the harbor scene, and the bit of stream, attract general attention and praise, especially with those who have already begun to think of the holidays and their gifts.

Those who have a spare hour or two and an inclination for pictures, cannot do better than to spend the one and gratify the other in Brown's studio.

POLICE NOTES.—The Boston Herald says that Thomas Curran of this city was arrested Monday by the Boston police and confessed breaking into the store of Fessenden Brothers, of this city, and robbing the same of $40. When the wires were taken out of the Republican headquarters Wednesday the window of the news-room beneath was left unfastened after the wires were disconnected. Curran, who had been hanging about the building, saw the opportunity and improved it. The money taken was all in nickles. Deputy Chase went to Boston yesterday and brought Curran to this city.

A FINE BUILDING.

Completion of the Centennial Block.

Portland has a large number of fine buildings, but probably there is no finer business block in the city than the Centennial block, which has been erected the present season by H. N. Jose, Esq It has been built by the very best mechanics in Portland, and has received the personal supervision of Mr. Jose throughout the time of its erection. The block is 51 feet on Exchange and Market streets and is 68 feet deep. It is four stories high, with a light, airy basement, but a few feet below the level of the sidewalk. The front of the building on Exchange street is of freestone from Nova Scotia. The remainder of the walls are built of face bricks. The granite for the basement came from the Spruce Head quarries, at Thomaston. On each side of the entrance are highly polished granite pillars, from Red Beach, Calais. White marble stairs lead to the corridors on the first floor of the block.

The block is used entirely for offices, and is very conveniently arranged for single rooms or suites. In all there are 40 rooms, finished in what is popularly known as the Eastlake style. The basement is finished in ash, the first two stories in black walnut, and the two upper ones in clear pine, oiled.

The block is furnished with a hydraulic elevator, which is operated with Sebago water. It runs from the first story to the top of the building and will be used for the accommodation of those having business in the block. It is a new invention and is the only one of the kind now in operation. It was put in by the Tufts's Elevator Company of Boston. The building is also furnished with fourteen fire-proof vaults, put in by the American Steam Safe Company. It is piped throughout for steam, gas and water. The steam is furnished from the engine house on the opposite side of the street. The pipes and radiators are all of steel bronze, which is much nicer looking than iron. Each room is thoroughly ventilated, there being fresh air admitted under the windows. The rooms are all light and easy of access, and are well calculated for the purposes for which they are used.

Nearly the entire block is already let, and the occupants are as follows: The whole of the left hand side of the basement is used for the United States pension office, Gen. George L. Beal, agent. The front office on the opposite side of the basement is occupied by the Portland District Society of the New York Life Insurance Company, M. N. Rich, secretary. The rear office on this floor is not occupied. The entire suite of rooms on the right hand side, on the first floor, is to be occupied as a law office by Drummond & Winship. Hon. T. B. Reed occupies two rooms at the end of the corridor, while the front office on the left hand side is as yet unoccupied. On the second story, J. & E. M. Rand occupy three rooms as a law office. C. Hale, Esq., also occupies two rooms. F. H. Fassett & Son occupy a suit of three elegantly fitted up rooms on this floor. On the third floor, A. J. Blethen, J. J. Perry and F. M. Ray occupy law offices. O. K. Gerrish, agent for a New York nursery, also has an office on this floor. The upper and fourth story is fitted up as a hall 50 by 30 feet, with a tenement where the janitor is to live.

Last evening Mr. Jose called the contractors together who had assisted in erecting the block and gave them a fine collation in the hall on the fourth story. After the repast Mr. Jose made a few complimentary remarks to the gentlemen present. He spoke in the highest terms of their work, and any one who inspects the building cannot do otherwise. He also referred to the care each and every one of them have taken to keep the sidewalk clear of building materials. This is but a just tribute, as all will say who have had occasion to pass up and down Exchange street since the work was commenced last spring. While other builders have blocked the sidewalk month after month, these gentlemen have given all a free passage during the entire time. It was a very pleasant gathering and spoke well for all concerned in the work of building the block.

The plan of the block was furnished by F. H. Fassett & Son, the well known architects of this city. Thomas Shannahan excavated the cellar and built the walls. Knight, Redlon & Co. were the masons. Mr. Fitzgerald of this city furnished and put up the stone front. N. Whitney was the carpenter. A. Hooper was stair builder. P. Feeney was the plasterer. Messrs. Tenney & Leighton put in the ventilators. Ambrose Giddings was the painter. W. C. Clark put in the gas pipes. J. H. Bond & Co. were the plumbers. W. H. Scott furnished the cornices and gutters. I. D. Merrill put on the tin roof and Brackett was glazier.

Re-opening the Museum.

The public will be gratified to learn that the Portland Museum is to be re-opened under the management of Miss Fannie Marsh. There has been much regret that, owing to the misfortunes, doubtless unavoidable, of the former management, this popular place of amusement has been closed. While it was running it was a benefit in many ways to the city, and afforded a place of resort which many of our people have long felt the need of.

Miss Marsh purposes to open the Museum on the 3d of December, and has gone to New York to engage her company. Her tact and experience promise success in the enterprise. It is her intention to furnish a place of amusement equal in all respects, except size, to any in New England. The freshest society plays will be presented, the standard drama will not be neglected, and spectacular pieces will be brought out at intervals. It is her wish to establish the place firmly in popular favor, and to achieve that end no pains nor expense will be spared. Already arrangements have been perfected to produce the most popular plays now running in the Metropolitan theatres.

Of necessity there will be some difficulty in securing an adequate company so late in the season; but it is believed that this difficulty will be overcome, and that actors of established merit will be engaged. There is a hope that the new season will open with "stars," and that some notable artists will make their appearance in Portland. Miss Marsh has in mind to devote Saturday evenings to Shakespearian plays, carefully rehearsed and presented. This must prove a popular feature of the season. Her efforts deserve success and should receive hearty encouragement.

HOWARD ATHENÆUM TROUPE.—This troupe drew a packed house at Music Hall last evening. The entertainment opened with the pleasing Irish drama Arrah-na Pogue. Harry Kennedy, the ventriloquist, made a great hit and brought down the house. The Sisters St. Felix were excellent dancers and singers. Miss Louise Boshell gave a very graceful performance on the floating wire. The performance closed with the burlesque pantomime of "Sinbad the Sailor." Maffit the clown, and Bartholomew as "Pantaloon," were as usual, full of fun, and the piece contained lots of chances to show it. The whole entertainment was good and the company is a large one.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—The following are the real estate transfers recorded in this county yesterday:

Falmouth—Lot of land containing one acre from Chas. W. and Sarah E. Nickerson to Daniel W. Hodsdon.

New Gloucester—Lot of land containing fifty acres from Alice P. Butler to John E Pendexter.

Lot of land containing seventy acres from Edward C. Butler to John C. Pendexter.

AN APOLOGY.—Through an unfortunate accident the notice prepared of Mrs. Abba Goold Woolson's lecture at Reception Hall, Monday evening, was mislaid and did not appear in this paper yesterday morning. Although the lecture has been given here once before it was none the less interesting, and the hall was well filled with a very appreciative audience. The lecture was as might be supposed a very brilliant description of the Yo Semite Valley of which so much has been written and painted. The delivery as well as a composition was very fine.

Personal.

Dr. George A. Clark, whose health has been so much impaired for several months, will close up business and remove from the city very soon.

Ira S. Locke of Biddeford, has been admitted to the practice of law.

George W. Whitney, Esq., a prominent and esteemed member of the Penobscot bar, died of consumption, at his home, on Friday afternoon.

Prof. G T. Fletcher, for so many years the Principal of the Eastern State Normal School, at Castine, is in poor health, suffering from a lung difficulty.

ARMY & NAVY COURSE.—This course gives its opening entertainment this evening at City Hall with a splendid concert by Miss Emma C. Thursby, soprano; Miss Anna Drasdil, contralto; Mr. Wm. J. Winch, tenor; Mr. John F. Winch, basso; Herman Kotzschmar, pianist. The committee has gone to great expense to bring these talanted artists here and the prospect is they will have the crowded house they deserve. The evening tickets are placed at the low price of fifty cents each. We are also pleased to announce that the celebrated Swedish ladies quartette brought to this country by Strakosch, and now under engagement to Theodore Thomas, have been engaged and will form a part of the grand concert in this course. This is said to be the finest quartette of female singers in the world. Wm. Castle, the tenor from the Kellegg Opera Company, will also appear at this concert. The other artists will be announced soon.

The course tickets can be found at Stockbridge's, Hale's, and the usual places. Reserved seat tickets and evening tickets at Thomes', under Music Hall, and at the door The following is the programme:

A Card.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morgan was entered Monday evening, not by burglars nor by clamorers for the latest political news; but by a company of cheerful friends who came to congratulate them on the tenth anniversary of their marriage. They came with hearts and hands full. They came unexpectedly, but were none the less welcome. Now to all, who so completely yet so happily surprized us by their presence and their gifts, and to those who, unable to be present, sent substantial tokens of their good will, we tender our sincere thanks. The occasion was made all the more joyous to us by this surprise. We shall long remember it as one of the happiest events of our united life.

Again, for these substantial testimonials of your good will, we thank you.

J. F. MORGAN,
H. C. MORGAN.

The Nightmare.

"Here's yer Portland Daily Argus,"
"Here's yer Portland Morning Press"—
The former gives us news that's "bogus,"
The latter, news not "made by guess."

MR. EDITOR,—The urchins have howled their papers under my bedroom window until they gave me the nightmare, and when I came out of it the above was the result. It (the effort) has confined me to my bed; but I expect to be out again by the time it's settled "who's 'lected." HAZEN.

SACRED CONCERT.—Mr. Percival returned from Boston yesterday and reports that he has secured the Arion Club to give a Sacred Concert at Music Hall Sunday evening. This is an excellent quartette of male voices and they will give a fine concert.

THE machine was worn out. Why? Not because it was not well built, but it was wrongly run. Thousands of men who have run down long before their threescore and ten years are accomplished, might have been renewed into sprightliness and vim if they had tried the well known Peruvian Syrup, which contains among its compounds the Protoxide of Iron, so combined that it assimilates with the blood and invigorates the whole system. The great virtue of this medicine is that it ripens the matter and throws it out of the system, purifies the blood, and thus effects a cure.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, &c.

The Tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach creating an a appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of Indigestion.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS FOR THE CURE OF LIVER COMPLAINT, &c.

These Pills are alterative and produce a healthy action of the liver, without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet more efficacious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for Consumption, as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of Consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good digestion, and enables the organs to form good blood, and thus creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained, will cure every case of Consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines persevered in.

POETRY.

Autumn Rose.

BY PAUL H. HAYNE.

God's bension upon each happy day,
Dead now and gone. Its genie ghost our feet
Doth follow, singing mainly—and how sweet,
Tenderly sweet, as through a luminous mist
Its shadowy lips draw near us to be kissed!
And though they melt upon the yearning mouth
Like fairy balm from some phantasmal south,
Their breath is magic; and we feel the start
As of an unsealed fountain close at heart,
Till warmed, restored, breathing a fine repose,
Our innermost nature, wakening, glows anew;
While, gemmed by sunset memory's radiant dew,
Lo! the heart blossoms like an autumn rose.

THE FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

Permanent Grass.

However pleasant and agreeable it is in theory to possess a permanent meadow, the sod of which shall grow and thicken for a century, in practice we doubt if such a meadow could be made profitable even if it could be made possible. That it could be made possible by the exercise of skill in management and the expenditure of sufficient money for manure in rare cases upon some soils well fitted for this use we do not doubt; but, that this use of land would be unprofitable we feel very sure. It is only in a very few cases that specialties in agriculture can be made to pay, and then there must be a combination of favoring circumstances to render them profitable. The dairy, for instance, is one of the most important of the agricultural specialties, and the outlet for its products is wide and extensive. For the prosecution of this industry there could be nothing more desirable than rich and permanent pastures for summer feeding and permanent meadows to yield fodder for winter—if these could be made profitable. But here the dairyman meets with a check. To say nothing of the difficulty or impossibility in most cases of maintaining grass lands in a productive condition, he finds the quantity of land that is needed to support one cow, far too great at its present value to permit a satisfactory profit to be realized from her produce. Five acres of pasture and two of meadow for a cow's yearly subsistence is more than he can afford. Where land is worth $50 an acre the interest upon the cost of seven acres alone will sweep away nearly half the average income from a cow. It is very clear when we consider the average returns from a dairy cow that it does not, and cannot, pay to keep her on pasture and hay exclusively. If this is a fact we may as well abandon all thought of keeping land permanently in grass and all effort to do so. Even upon moist bottom lands "natural to grass" we are satisfied that it will not pay as well to grow grass permanently as to drain those lands and submit them to a regular rotation of cropping in which hay and pasture, or soiling crops shall alternate with grains and roots. If one cow can be kept upon every seven acres upon a farm devoted to varied crops under the best system of rotation—as we know from ample experience can be done with ease—it is then very clear that all the crops raised in excess of what is needed to subsist the cows are so much gained. It this is true, the farmer who mixes dairying with grain growing is far better off than the exclusively dairy farmer. The past season has helped to greatly enlarge the experience of dairymen, and, as is usual, the new experience has been paid for. The past summer has been very destructive to pastures and meadows over a large extent of country, and the income of thousands of dairymen who have not practiced "selling" more or less has considerably fallen off. What we have learned this season has been very much against permanent grass and in favor of a mixed system. It has long been believed by some farmers that pasturing is a wasteful practice. Many of these will now be certain of it. But the lengthened rest given to the land by some seasons of pasturing is helpful and valuable, and this fact only tends to strengthen the position we have defended in these columns, viz., that a much more extended rotation than that usually practiced is desirable, and would be found profitable, and in such a lengthened rotation dairying falls naturally as one of the necessary parts of it.—N. Y. Times.

The Wheat Supply in England.

The wheat crop this year is the conclusion of a history full of alarms and surprises. Mr. Caird tells it very pleasantly in all its bearings and consequences, and reminds us, by the contrast, of the mysterious and gloomy tone with which the staff of life was always discussed as late as thirty years ago. In some respects the present state of things far surpasses the direst predictions of that day. We are dependent upon foreigners to an extent never then imagined. While the average consumption is about twenty-three million quarters or, as the Customs' Returns state it, one hundred million hundredweights, during the last harvest year we have imported—happily it seems somewhat in excess of our wants—sixty-three million hundredweights, or not far from two-thirds of our whole consumption.

Half of this came from the United States, and so much of our wheat supply depends, therefore, not only on the good will of that country, but still more immediately on her commercial state, which is very variable. The profit itself has to be nicely calculated, and in Mr. Caird's opinion the prices which have lately prevailed yield little or no profit. Such a fact is slowly appreciated, but when the American farmers have once acted upon it and stopped supplies, it takes time to reverse that movement and meet a rising demand. Five per centum of our wheat imports come from British India—where we have lately had to feed a famished population. A good deal comes from Turkey and Egypt which, Mr. Caird observes, will have to send us wheat because they both want money and can no longer get it by simply borrowing. He suggests, however, that in present circumstances Turkey cannot be depended on for any considerable supplied. France is too much in our own condition to be sure of sparing us wheat when we happen to want it; in fact, if she has not to compete with us in the open market, that is about as much as can be now be expected. She has had a poor harvest of other grain and produce, and may want all her own wheat and more. The wheat crop of Canada is much lower than usual.

Here, then, is the very state of things which a generation ago was prophesied as the last page of our national decline and fall. When all the world, including our jealous rivals, found us dependent on them for more than half of our daily bread, they had only to put their heads together and destroy the proud nation that had so oppressed and insulted them. The consummation has come. It finds us year by year growing less wheat, and the foreigner growing, if not absolutely more, at least more than pays him.—London Times.

Vienna Coffee.

The two-gill measure level full of ground coffee; the same of cold coffee or water; one egg, shell, yelk and white, mixed together in a bowl. Rinse out your coffee boiler with boiling water, put this in, and pour over it three pints of fiercely boiling water, or two pints if you wish it strong. Close the spout and lid closely, and boil fifteen or twenty minutes; pour in about four small tablespoonfuls of cold water to settle it. Rinse out the coffee urn with boiling water before pouring the coffee in. "The boiled milk" for the coffee must be fresh and new, not merely warmed, or even brought to the boiling point, but slowly simmered in a farina boiler till it attains a thick, creamy richness; then it must be sent to the table in a hot cream pitcher to keep it warm. "The whipped cream" is made by pouring a cupful of rich cream into a deep bowl, holding the churn about a quarter of an inch from the bottom, and churning it well. As fast as the stiffened froth rises to the top of the cream, skim it off with a spoon, keep it cool, and send it to the table in a bowl. Put into each cup the desired amount of sugar, a tablespoonful or so of the boiled milk; pour on the coffee, and place on top a large spoonful of the whipped cream. Give a gentle stir to each cup before sending them round. Do not grind coffee too fine. A heaping silver tablespoonful of the ground is a liberal allowance for each person, and weighs half an ounce. An ounce of ground coffee to a pint of boiling water is the rule. Two gills of ground coffee weighs three ounces.—J. L. M. in Country Gentleman.

A Cheap Husk Mat.

Take an inch board the size you wish your mat, dress it neatly, rule it each way, drawing the lines 1½ inches apart; bore a ⅜ inch augur hole in each square, then double a piece of broom twine, pass it through the holes one at a time, and having the husks previously dampened, take a sufficient quantity to fill the hole very tight, and pass it through the hole, pulling it through until the double end of the husk is 1½ inches long, then draw the twine out and proceed in the same manner until all the holes are filled; then take a sharp knife and cut the double husks, spread them apart, trim the uneven side, tramp it down and set it where it is to be used, either side up. I think it will last as long and be fully as valuable as a mat that would cost the farmer's wife several dollars if purchased at a mat store.—J. L. H. in N. E. Farmer.

MEDICAL

READER,

Have you risen from your bed after a short sleep to find yourself nearly suffocated with Catarrhal matter in your nose, head, and throat? Have you noticed what a depressing influence it exercises on the mind, blunting its faculties, besides enervating the body as well? How difficult to rid the head of this foul matter all can testify who are afflicted with Catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs and bronchial tubes, all physicians can testify. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief. To be freed from the danger of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and undermines the system; to know that the body does not, through its veins and arteries, carry the poison that is sure to destroy, is indeed a blessing. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure. They become incredulous. With such the long array of testimonies from our best citizens, physicians, and druggists in favor of

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Must convince them that it possesses great merit while the new and original method of its preparation when studied with the disease satisfies the mind of any reasonable person that its method of cure is the true one.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Instantly relieves and permanently cures every form of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the ulcerative stage, together with all its sympathetic diseases.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Relieves in a short time the very worst forms of Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Tightness across the Temples, Ringing Noises in the Head and Wakefulness.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Cleanses the nasal passages in a single application with the admirable Inhaler, which accompanies each package free of charge, and is more serviceable than any other form of Inhaler.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Removes by a single application the hard, encrusted matter from the nose, opens up the nasal passages, allows the sufferer to breathe freely and enjoy for the first time the pleasure of a full breath.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Allays pain, inflammation, and soreness of the mucous membrane of the nasal passages. It is the most soothing, healing and grateful preparation ever applied to these inflamed surfaces.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is also taken internally, where, by its action on the blood in eliminating from the system the acid poison always present in Catarrh, it affects the whole constitution.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Thus becomes a powerful purifying agent in overcoming the poisonous action of the rotten matter that has, during sleep, dropped into the throat and mingled with the contents of the stomach, to be absorbed into the system.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy. It strengthens the system by internal use, while endeavoring to throw off the disease and soothes and heals the inflamed nasal surfaces by direct application

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a great and reliable medicine, and when every other remedy is tried and found wanting, this, by its immediate beneficial effect, passes at once into favor, which it retains forever afterwards.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.
